In today's economy as well as on the international stage, competition is becoming tougher. Competitive pressure and demands are enormous. Directly affected is also HR. The demand for interim positions has been on the increase for many years and could hardly be met most recently.

Executives Agency GmbH & Co KG and their direct partners have built respective bridges in all industrial sectors for many years. We know the market better than anybody else and have developed outstanding contacts and networks. Our goal: Best in class on the interim market. With probably the largest interim management pool for all industries worldwide.

Today, our clients find exactly the type of manager, experts and specialists they require for their respective project.

This brochure will give you all the details.

all industry.

Our focus? Best in class on the interim market.

Even in our special segment automotive, we are experiencing on a daily basis that the days of traditional industries are over. Traditional industries such as chemical methods to treat and refine surfaces as well as to design novel materials, ever new electronic modules in the field of infotainment and save driving, computer-aided processes to interlink modules up to hybrid drive and the latest concepts for mobility come together to form a product within one production process. Also, a manufacturer uses plant and mechanical engineering, automation, building technology and IT as well as the advancement of renewable energy solutions for the production of a vehicle.

Therefore, we have aimed our focus on all industrial sectors and have a broad spectrum of qualifications and capacities for the most diverse requirements and processes in our network. Moreover, we also consider intercultural characteristics thus taking account of the globalization of markets and companies.

We always have an optimal choice of suitable candidates not only from the point of view of internationalization but also in consideration of each company culture and size.

The largest pool. The biggest fish. The best quality.

number one.

For many years now, we have had intensive contacts with experts of all industries. During this time, our pool of interim managers has grown continuously developing into the largest network of the sector.

By now, we are relying on well above 3,000 handpicked experts from our own pool and are also part of a close network with further interim partner companies around the globe.

For companies facing staff shortages, we have the perfect solutions at hand – we overcome crisis and projects of any kind, for we cover all classic line functions – from project engineer to C-level. As an insider, we know the rules and demands of the markets and have the right candidates at the ready.

We can fill even the most exotic positions and functions with exceptional special skills at short notice.

Tailormade to meet your requirements.

Whether operating on the shop floor or in a managerial capacity, today's economy is unthinkable without interim managers as they are the perfect solution for an acute vacancy due to their fast availability, matching expertise and ability to integrate immediately.

An increase in interim managers leads to differences in quality and performance. If you seek a specialist with Executives Agency, you avoid mistakes, and all your requirements are met. Our interim experts are tailor-made as they reach your organization.

Rest assured that you receive a specialist who tackles and finalizes your tasks professionally without a long learning curve. Our candidates have a broad range of experience from all different kinds of companies and industries in order to also integrate themselves into the given structures and processes of your company.

High quality standards

selection.

Nobody can match us when it comes to evaluating and choosing experts and managers, for we have special testing methods and an ingenious interview technique to check candidates who want to join our manager pool. Based on this experience, it has taken us many years to create one of the largest interim management pools.

Our corporate research teams contact around 100 managers and specialists of all thinkable couleur each day. Week by week, our consultants analyze countless CVs and interview candidates and applicants. Our professionalism in searching and choosing excellent managers makes us popular partners even for choosing the right interim manager.

Whether you have to cover a vacancy or require additional resources for an important project, with us, you will find the manager or specialist who meets your every requirement – without any delay.

taskforce teams.

If all hell breaks lose.

If unexpected situations occur in your company or in case of sudden important projects which cannot be realized on time with existing resources, quick action is required. No company can afford to put off occurring problems or important projects, and the tasks and timings set by the customers must always be kept in view.

Every mistake and each delay may trigger a chain-reaction which might in the end even threaten the existence of one's own company.

The question is: How to get the right experts as soon as possible in order to face this danger professionally and solve problems quickly and sustainably?

Also here, the interim pool of Executives Agency offers you fast and reliable help, for we can promptly put together an experienced team of all the right specialists

We provide our experts at

full speed.

We are the fastest! Do not experiment when under timely pressure - instead, trust the experience, efficiency and, above all, speed of our consultants. Our speed is astounding! Within 24 hours from your initial enquiry, you will receive a first profile selection. You start your interviews and choice of candidates straight away, without any loss of time.

As for the necessary evils of administration, conditions and contract design, leave all that to us; we shall contact your purchasing and HR departments at the same time and act according to your wishes.

In case of utter urgency, the selected candidate shall roll up his sleeves straight after the interview and start work immediately. Rest assured, our managers have got the right professional spirit and flexibility.

It is all down to you: If you react and decide quickly, your vacancies will be perfectly filled within only a few hours.
